Bridgeway Academy Now Offering Scholarship for New to Homeschooling Families

Families making the switch to homeschooling can receive $500

CATASAUQUA, PA — June 12, 2020

Bridgeway Academy is now offering new to homeschooling families the chance to receive a $500 scholarship to help ease their transition. The New to Homeschooling Scholarship is presented by Bridgeway Alumni and will be awarded to families throughout June and July as they prepare for the start of the school year.

“Bridgeway and its alumni value home education. We applaud families who take their child’s education into their own hands. We recognize that starting to homeschool comes with lots of questions, from what your state laws are to choosing the right curriculum.” says Jessica Parnell, Bridgeway Academy CEO. “Our goal is to make the transition as easy as possible for these new families.”

The $500 award can be used towards tuition of Bridgeway’s Total Care programs which provide families everything that they need for the school year: full-year curriculum customized to each child’s learning style and grade level, accreditation, teaching guides, support of an academic advisor, grading, transcripts, and more.

Families can apply for the scholarship by visiting:
